

DO YOU WANT TO KNOW A SECRET?

No Matter How Good ...

No Matter How Talented...

Experienced...

Successful
You Are...

If you feel there is something holding you back from fulfilling your dream, there probably is.

And it is probably you.

How do I know that? Because the negative emotions that hold you back are the same as the inherited emotions and beliefs that hold most of us back.

That is why so few of us shine, so few of us fulfil our true potential.

Those who do succeed understand The Secret: they have the ability to delete negative emotions that would otherwise hinder their goals.

Are you held back by negative emotions and beliefs?

Do you believe you could be great but for those emotions dragging you down?

Well you can. And I can show you how.

My name is Benjamin Bonetti, Founder of Empower-Your-Life.

I work with executives and celebrities to help them cope with their fast paced lifestyles and the pressure that pushes them to the point of physical and mental exhaustion.

Empower-Your-Life provides you with a fantastic one to one coaching programme designed and proven to assist, improve and develop simple but effective "state" changes, allowing you to deal with those unwanted self talk and challenges.

I will coach you, guiding, advising and suggesting different tactics to deal with your everyday struggles. I will work to find alternative options to pressures and stresses that you currently experience, developing your state to achieve a massively improved lifestyle.

Programme highlights include:

- The 5 Step Method for Turning Working Pressures into Working Pleasures
- Dealing with and Eliminating Burnout, Exhaustion, Stress and Depression
- How to Work with Emotional Challenges
- The One Critical Thing You Must do with Self Esteem
- The Importance of Life After Success

After coaching from me, clients have reported significant improvement in all areas of their lives, feeling completely revived, more confident and able to approach each day with new enthusiasm.

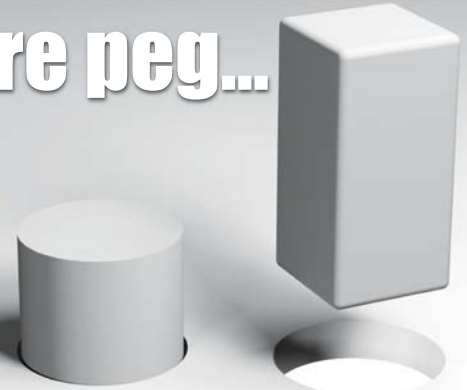

If you want to make a positive difference to your life and business and are prepared to benefit from the massive state changes that will take place then call me.

You cannot afford a square peg...

...because now, more than ever,
the quality of your executive team will determine your future success

My name is Alex Steele.

For the last 30 years, I have helped some of the most successful companies in Britain locate the executives they needed to ensure that success.

This is a highly specialised outsourced skill, not one that you will find in HR departments or in high street agencies.

Firstly, I get to know your business and the type of personality that will fit your culture, ethos and strategy.

Then I analyse the specific skill-set and experience required, taking into account all aspects of lines-of-reporting, management responsibility and achievable objectives.

Finally, I and my researchers thoroughly map the marketplace to identify the right people for you; then I will interview and assess them to ensure they match all your criteria.

Why use my company instead of simply advertising in the press?

Quite apart from delivering candidates that are properly matched to your requirements, thus saving you a great deal of time, in the process of identifying them I can also gather a great deal of intelligence about your competition which is likely to be a primary source of potential candidates.

More importantly, I discover a great deal about you and your standing in the marketplace

Is your company well regarded?

Are you seen as a market innovator?

Are people eager to join you or not that bothered, and if so, why?

We offer a unique opportunity to gather this invaluable and qualified market information.

Above all you are guaranteed that your search will be conducted professionally and discreetly. The candidates we speak to on your behalf are likely to know your company and it is vital from a PR viewpoint that the whole process, from initial approach to interview, enhances your image, even if you or the individual concerned decides not to proceed further.

Please give me a call and I will describe the process in more detail.

Because there is no substitute for getting it right, first time.
